GOOD BALL TEAMS MAKE MANAGERS

Without First Class Players
Any Leader Is Rank Failure.

PILOTS HAVE HARD ROAD.

When Their Clubs Are Winning They Receive Nothing but Praise, but When Teams Are Losing They Are Targets For Criticism.

Critics and fans usually blame the manager for the failure of a team. At times these charges are well founded, but there are times when it is the fault of the team that it is not higher in the race. On the other hand, there are managers who get a lot of boost- ing as the result of their teams' ability. Lee Fohl, for instance, was unknown to major league baseball a year ago, never having been identified with a major league team in anything but a minor position. Yet he has made good as the manager of the Cleveland Indians. Just where that team will finish is not known, but it appears a clinch that wherever it goes Fohl will get nothing but praise for the showing.

Bill Donovan of the New York Americans is not getting the credit he deserves, for though his team is badly crippled, he is criticised as not being capable. Donovan is as capable as any of his rivals, and, although the breaks have been against him, he has kept his team up.

Clark Griffith, who was scored by Washington fans last year because the Senators were down in the race, is a popular idol in the capital just now inasmuch as he has put his men in the running.

The sudden improvement in the Athletics has prompted the general belief that Connie Mack's ability to reconstruct his team is bearing fruit. But the poor playing of the Tigers, Browns and White Sox, actually caused by weak pitching, is blamed on their respective managers.

As long as the Brooklyn are in the first division in the National league race Uncle Willert Robinson will receive unstinted praise for his leadership. But if the Robins fall their manager is sure to receive some of the blame. Pat Moran has been pronounced one of the greatest managers in the profession, but what would the Phillies accomplish without the valuable services of Alexander? Stallings is another capable manager, but the Braves, minus Bill James, may not win this year's pennant. When the Giants were at the tail end of the procession McGraw was a target for criticism from persons who blamed the little manager for not securing first class pitchers. But since the Giants have a good chance to win the flag, praise for McGraw can be heard on all sides. Tinker will be roundly scored if the Cubs finish below the halfway mark, while the Cincinnati club may replace Herzog with a new leader if the Reds do not finish better than fourth. Huggins, who was an idol while the Cardinals were high in the race, is slowly losing favor in St. Louis, and it is a foregone conclusion that Jimmy Callahan will not manage the Pirates next year unless there is a phenomenal brace.

No matter how capable a manager may be, he cannot produce a winning team without good playing material. Wisdom and decision alone will not suffice for a ball team. There must be playing strength in abundance before pennants can be won, and while, of course, the manager has much to do with directing a team fighting hard and directing its course during a campaign, he can accomplish little if potential strength is lacking.

To Build Fifteen Playgrounds.
Philadelphia will provide fifteen additional playground sites, which will cost $2,000,000 to equip.

Sporting Notes.

A man got an awful fall last night. He had vowed he would not shave until it stopped raining. He stepped on his beard.

If you do not cut your lawn on the first pleasant day a having crew is necessary by the time the next rainless few moments roll around.

Hughes of the Braves jumped into the limelight yesterday with a so-called, no-run game, Pittsburg being the victims of his deceptive pitching.

As was to be expected Mack has signed Harold Crisp, a 17-year-old school boy pitcher who has made a strikeout record in 12.5 school games.

The Chattanooga law schoolmen on baseball. Even the lights of oratory can be kept under canvas, which is more than can be done with a ball game.

We are not strong on doing other folks' work, but we would a great deal rather they would be "enjoying" vacations now than to have that affliction ourselves.

The players of the Brattleboro league objected to starting the season May 27 because they had had no chance to practice. Unless they have overcome that prejudice the local season is due to open the day before Thanksgiving.

Little Fritz O'Mara of the Tufts team made three singles and two doubles in five chances at Dartmouth twirling yesterday, made two errors, catches in the outfield and twirled the last inning. It was the last Tufts game of the season and Dartmouth lost, 11 to 7.

They say that training trotting horses is getting to be a mighty sloppy business. One of the trainers told us the other day that he had not worked a horse on a dry track this spring and that he did not feel natural unless plastered with mud and wet to the skin.

Always ready to help out the sporting public, The Reformer has undertaken to obtain from Venice the methods of playing our great national game in that city. Conditions here and there are so similar at present that the trick of playing the outfield in a gondola would be something of value to local players.

If Company I should be called into service it would last up the local league. The government ought to have some regard for the feelings of local fans who have been waiting these many weeks for a taste of the summer pastime. Besides, we can think of some members of the company who, we are willing to bet, would a good deal rather be tagged out at home than in Mexico.

AN ECCENTRIC BOXER.

There is a lightweight in the middle west with a peculiar name and some equally peculiar ideas on training. The newcomer, who recently fought Ever Hammer at Kenosha, Wis., is known as the Bitter Root Kid. He does his road work with a sack full of rocks tied to each shoulder. He says this makes him tough and strong. He also does all his training after dark. The reason for this, he explains, is that, as he fights at night, it is necessary to become accustomed to the glare of the lights. He says that, as boxing is principally a question of judging distance and timing blows, it is better to train under the same conditions that obtain in the ring.

WAMBSGANSS REAL STAR.

Cleveland's Young Infielder Making Great Name For Himself This Season.

Bill Wambsganss, one of the Cleveland infielders, is playing great ball, despite that one of his eyes is completely closed because of an accident with which he met recently. It is his right eye which is affected, and yet he continues to hit and field like a star.

Fohl intended to leave the big fellow on the bench, but he reckoned without Wamby, who insisted on staying in the game. He explained that it might break up a winning combination to put him out of the game, and Fohl, taking the tip, allowed him to play, and he did his share to help the Indians win many games.

KILLIFER COMES BACK.

Phillies' Star Catcher Finds His Arm as Good as Ever.

Bill Killifer, the star catcher of the Phillies, whose throwing arm was believed to be dead, seems to have come back. He broke into the game recent-

BILL KILLIFER, PHILLIES' STAR CATCHER, and the Phillies won several games as a result of his good work.

The come back of Killifer means much for the Phillies. Eddie Burns has been overworked since the opening of the season, and it is only natural that his handling of Moran's pitchers did not measure up to the work of Killifer. That Alexander's original battery mate is back in harness is sure to make a big difference in the showing of the great pitcher.

LEONARD'S RING REQUISITES.

Possesses Coolness, Cleverness, Capacity, Courage and Crusher.

If Benny Leonard doesn't follow the highway that has been traveled by McGovern, Young Corbett, Nelson, Wolgast, Ritchie and Welsh in order there is a chance for him to be the greatest lightweight that ever lived.

This New York kid has every detail that fits into championship class. He looked faster and worked with even greater cleverness than Freddie Welsh, one of the game's master mechanics. He can hit with either paw, he can stand a hard, rushing pace, and there is no question about his gameness. He has the five big C's that are needed—coolness, cleverness, capacity, courage and crusher.

The lightweight who stops or eliminates Leonard will have no kick coming about a dull evening when the affair comes off.

LOTS OF HELP FOR RUSH.

Directors Appoint Eight Football Coaches at Princeton.

The athletic board of control at Princeton recently appointed eight football coaches to assist Head Coach Rush next fall.

The men are Harold Ballin, '15; Philip King, '93; A. T. Hildebrand, 1900; Samuel White, '12; Thomas Wilson, '13; Blueenthal, '13; Cruikshank, former Washington and Jefferson star, now a student at Princeton seminary; and Ed Shea, a senior in the university.

The "Gold-Standard"— in Tires

GOODRICH Tire Values are not at all "Accidental." They spring from Conditions which are logical as the Laws of the Universe.

The best-intentioned Tire Manufacturer cannot AVOID being heavily handicapped when competing against them.

Because, Goodrich "Conditions" summarize into this:

1st—The longest Experience in Mfg. the Product.

2nd—The greatest Leverage on purchasing of Raw Materials at lowest prices, through ability to take largest quantities.

3rd—The lowest Cost of Manufacturing, through largest VOLUME of Output.

4th—The clearly-demonstrated INTENTION to give Consumers and Dealers the full benefit of the large ECONOMIES resulting from possession of the three Cardinal Advantages above defined.

THE Product of such a Rubber Concern,—when marketed under such conditions,—giving the benefit of such huge Economies to Consumers may, well, and logically, be considered—the "GOLD-STANDARD" in Tire Values.

Therefore:—When you pay MORE than the Goodrich Fair-List prices, here printed, for ANY Fabric Tire, you are merely "contributing" the difference.

Because,—You CANNOT get "better" Fabric Tires,—at ANY price!

Test them thoroughly,—and see!
